

International meeting in QUÉBEC

Defining tomorrow's city-port relationship
April 10 to April 12, 2011

An initiative from:

With the support of:

A MAJOR ISSUE

Access to a sea route is a major factor for commercial outlets, exchanges and prosperity in a large city. The city's future is closely associated to that of the port. How can a city and port contribute to each other's mutual development from a perspective of sustainable development? This is what the international meeting in Québec will try to highlight through the various contributions from large port cities around the globe. A meeting not to be missed!

- Inspiring models to be showcased: the St-Lawrence and Great Lakes, the Mississippi, the Rhine and many more.
- Benchmark port cities: Barcelona, Chicago, le Havre, Helsinki, Nantes, Québec, Rotterdam, Stockholm, etc.
- Lecturers from three different backgrounds: research, municipal affairs and the maritime industry.

As participants in these deliberations, you may get involved in:

- Interactive workshops
- Constructive inter-communications
- Promising networking
- Formative training

You may, in this way, help find possible sustainable solutions for the future of our institutions and port industries.

AN EVENT AND DATE TO BE ENTERED IN YOUR AGENDA!

For more information:

Frédéric Couttet, Director, Affaires internationales et Immigration,

permanent delegate, Espace économique francophone

17 rue Saint-Louis, Québec, (QC) G1R 3Y8

Tel: 418-692-3853, ext. 235 / Fax: 418-694-2286 / E-Mail: fcouttet@ccquebec.ca

www.ccquebec.ca/riqvp

